Fortinet's FortiCare 360 Degrees Cloud Service Delivers Continuous Assessment of Enterprises' Network Security Posture

Increases Performance and Security Effectiveness with Automated Security Fabric Reporting and Actionable Fortinet Expert Recommendations

SUNNYVALE, CA -- (Marketwired) -- 10/27/16 -- John Maddison, senior vice president of products and solutions, Fortinet

"Misconfigured, suboptimized, and unpatched security components are the number one cause of security incidents reported globally, according to Verizon's 2016 Data Breach Investigations Report. Unfortunately, the critical process to consistently evaluate and optimize an enterprise's various security elements can be extremely time and resource intensive. Our FortiCare 360° cloud services solve these challenges -- leveraging Fortinet's Security Fabric to reinforce enterprise IT teams with proactive security device assessments, complete with actionable recommendations from Fortinet security engineers."
